

How to book and pay...

On-line visit www.homeopathy-soh.org/events

To pay by cheque: complete the application form

Name
Address
Postcode
Email
Phone

Please tick box your selection(s)

Ticket options

Members' Day	Society Registered Member	£50	<input type="checkbox"/>
Members' Day	Society Newly Registered Member/Student	£40	<input type="checkbox"/>
Members' Day	Non member	£60	<input type="checkbox"/>

I wish to attend the AGM (FREE to Society members)

Disabilities: please let us know all your requirements in order for us to make adequate arrangements:

EARLY BIRD DISCOUNT:

I claim a saving of £5 on my booking fee made before 31st January 2017.

Book
now
& save!

Full payment of total booking fee enclosed for £

Make your cheque payable to "Society of Homeopaths"

Please return your cheque and application form to the address below right. All bookings carry a non-refundable deposit of £20 and refunds will not be possible after 1st March 2017.

This is the first Society event I have attended

Would you mind your name being included in a delegates list? Yes No

The Society reserves the right to refuse admission to all of its seminars and conferences and to cancel any workshops where necessary. Confirmation of places will be sent out 2 weeks prior to the event taking place.

The Society of Homeopaths
representing professional homeopaths

Company limited by Guarantee Registered in England No1392004

Planning your journey

If you are arriving by rail, Lady Margaret Hall is situated about 15 to 20 minutes on foot through the centre of town and across the lovely University Parks. Car drivers are advised to use the Park and Ride service at Water Eaton park and ride. Further information about bus services and parking facilities will be supplied on booking

Saturday 18th March 2017

Members' Day & AGM with Alize Timmerman

Lady Margaret Hall
University of Oxford
Norham Gardens
OX2 6QA

Kindly sponsored by

www.homeopathy-soh.org

Return to:

The Society of Homeopaths,
11 Brookfield, Duncan Close,
Moulton Park,
Northampton NN3 6WL
Tel 01604 817890
Email info@homeopathy-soh.org

The Society of Homeopaths
representing professional homeopaths

Members' Day & AGM

with
Alize Timmerman

Saturday 18 March 2017

Lady Margaret Hall
University of Oxford
Norham Gardens
OX2 6QA

Kindly sponsored by

www.homeopathy-soh.org

Join colleagues and friends in the beautiful surroundings of Lady Margaret Hall at the University of Oxford for the 2017 Members' Day & AGM

This is your day!

A chance to get together with colleagues and share knowledge from popular international teacher Alize Timmerman. After lunch join in the topical discussion around antimicrobial resistance ahead of the AGM taking place at 4.00pm

Alize Timmerman will open the day

The Orchid family: going back to the source of self

The most important question for a homeopath is where can we find the vital force, the source of self, in those with whom we work. But to help the patient, we must first find that vital force, or source, within our own being. We can then work with it, connect with it with "the other," our patient, to create a direct experience.

In this presentation, Alize will look at the Orchid family and their connection with vitality and self from a spiritual and sensation perspective. Using the concept of "Unconditional Love," she will explain how we can use emotion to lead us, and the patient, back to a place of belonging, and where vitality has no beginning and no end.

Alize Timmerman started her career in biochemical research, working in hospitals in The Netherlands, Norway and at the University of Amsterdam.

Alize went on to study Naturopathic Medicine and Homoeopathy and started practicing in 1981 and lecturing in 1986. She is the founder (1988) and director of The Hahnemann Institute of The Netherlands. The Institute organizes in-service training for practicing homeopaths.

Alize lectures all over the world, combining her unique insights in Homoeopathy and Psychology with a special talent for didactics and presentation. The Hahnemann Institute of the Netherlands, inspired by Jürgen Becker, started provings and triturations in the nineties; in this way a vast amount of knowledge on both new remedies and the Trituration principle has been acquired.

Alize has a busy practice where she works closely together with colleagues developing new strategies and refining homeopathic treatment.

Thanks to the generosity of our sponsor

Vote for colleagues

Following the afternoon tea break, candidates will be standing for election to the Society board. This is a chance for registered members to get involved in the important business of their membership organisation as they exercise their right to vote.

The business of the day will continue as the Annual General Meeting takes centre stage with the presentation of the 2016 activities, the annual review and annual accounts. The AGM part of the day is free to members, but please do let the Society know if you are attending in advance for catering purposes. Minutes and notices about who has been seeking election, together with details of the on-line annual review will be sent out to members by 17th February 2017.

9.30 - 10.00	Registration & Tea
10.00 - 11.30	Alize Timmerman
11.30 - 12.00	Tea
12.00 - 1.00	Alize Timmerman
1.00 - 2.30	Lunch
2.30 - 3.30	Antimicrobial resistance discussion
3.30 - 4.00	Tea
4.00 - 5.00	AGM
5.00 - 5.30	Awards
5.30 - 7.00	Drinks reception

Timetable

Join the discussion

Homeopathy in the age of antibiotic resistance.

The rise in antibiotic resistance is a huge challenge facing global healthcare today.

Homeopathy is able to offer an alternative approach to the treatment of uncomplicated infections. Alison Fixsen RSHom will kick start the discussion with a short presentation which will consider the implications of antibiotic resistance, the current evidence for homeopathy and other alternatives to antibiotics for common and resistant infections. Following the presentation, delegates will be joined by a panel of representatives from the community for a topical discussion.

Alison Fixsen has been a qualified Homeopath for over twenty years. She is Research Consultant for the Society of Homeopaths and Senior Lecturer for the University of Westminster. Alison has a long-standing interest in research, and has presented on Homeopathy and Antibiotic Resistance in Rome, Oslo and London.

Make a day of it

Enjoy lunch in Oxford

There will be a 90 minute lunch break for you to spend at your leisure in the surrounding cafes and restaurants.

Plenty to enjoy

Tea, coffee and biscuits will be available on arrival and served in the dedicated exhibition area. During breaks there will be plenty of opportunity to visit the trade and charity stands from the wider Homeopathic community.

As a perfect end to the day, delegates will receive a warm welcome from the board and staff at the complimentary drinks reception.

Historic venue

This is our third visit to Lady Margaret Hall. This beautiful characterful venue is located in tranquil North Oxford, a leafy Victorian suburb of wide streets, splendid gothic houses and mature trees. The College is set within spacious gardens, lawns and river walks. The University Parks, Natural History Museum and Pitt Rivers Museum are all close by. The centre of town is a 15 minute walk and Jericho, an attractive area of artisan dwellings, shops and restaurants backing onto the Oxford canal, is also within easy walking distance.

A place to stay

Lady Margaret Hall offers comfortable, affordable accommodation on a first come first served basis. Book early to avoid disappointment. To book accommodation contact Lady Margaret Hall directly on <http://www.universityrooms.com/en/city/oxford/college/lmhoxford> and code: SOH2017. For further information about hotels and bed and breakfasts in Oxford visit <http://experienceoxfordshire.org/stay/>